Dear Class of '87:

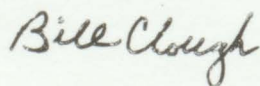

It has been a pleasure working with you--the more since we began our Gould careers in the same year, and I am pleased that the editors granted me space for a parting shot. I fully expect that the satisfaction from your Gould experience will amplify at appropriate moments when friendships with special people and teachers' efforts on your behalf are reflected through the years. Your efforts for the Academy are already noticed and appreciated, and I hope that when the time comes you can find ways to extend them to the next generation of Gould students.

So far as your own future is concerned, I cannot resist the urge to offer a little advice. There is lots of talk these days about how complex and difficult is life in the eighties. The complexity is an illusion. Underneath that veneer are just people much too caught up in getting and taking and staying in fashion.

At the risk of provoking yet another school-wide guffaw about taking risks, I suggest again that the secret to long-term happiness is less likely to be found in Cancun or in fighting off gray hair than it is in an individual decision to accept and to respond to the needs of some "other." It is a great comfort to me to know that Gould Academy graduates seniors who are fit for more than living lip sync lives and committed to more than personal comfort and success.

I hope enough tension remains on the string between you and Gould Academy so that you feel free to give it a tug once in awhile, and I do hope you will use it to keep in touch with us. We cannot go on without your continued interest and support. With thanks for the good times, I wish you all the best of luck.

Most sincerely,

William P. Clough III
Headmaster

DEDICATION

When one thinks of leaders, one sees a person standing out front, pointing the way, fearless and strong. Mr. Dohrmann has been the senior class advisor and leader. Not only that, but the class has seen him as a teacher coach, dorm head, father, husband, and friend. How he manages to juggle these roles is a feat in itself. Yet the most amazing thing is that he never loses his smile.

Mr. Dohrmann is a leader from the "back seat". Not out front pointing the way, but in the back, pointing out the road ahead, allowing students to take their own steps. He has shown students that there will not always be someone to tell them what to do, that learning is not following, but doing.

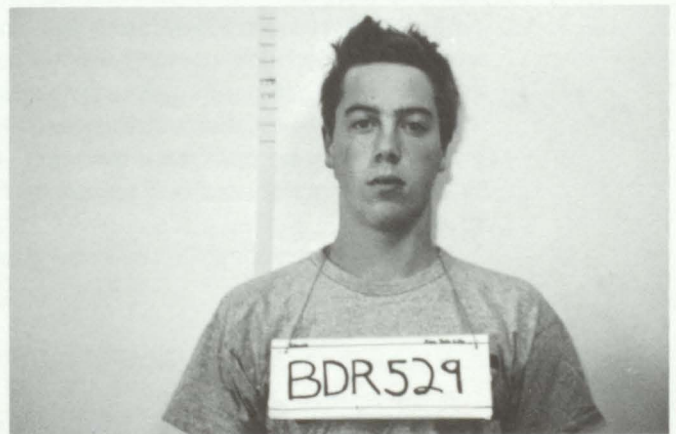

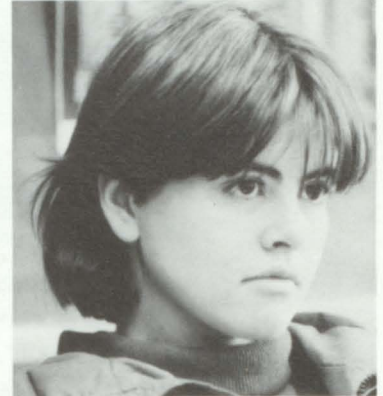

The way that he does this is by being very friendly, helpful, and informative. By being straightforward and honest he has built a strong relationship with the students.

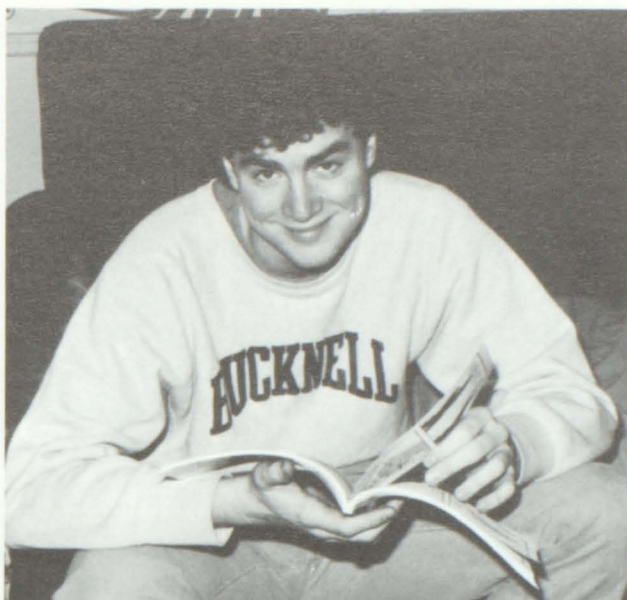

When we see your smile we know that something is going right. Thank you Mr. Dohrmann.

Don't Lose Heart
Chris Williamson

For the first time in my life
I've taken to deep waters
From the shelter of the cove
I've gone sailing on the sea
And I will always be there
Sailing deep upon the waters
And you will never see the last of me

Don't lose heart
It's the beginning not the end
It's just a start you've found a family of friends
Don't lose heart
And I'll be back with you again
You've finally found a family of friends

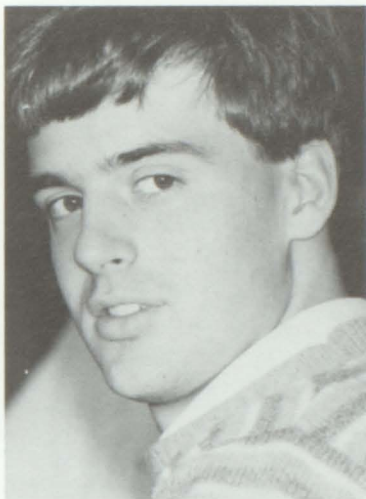

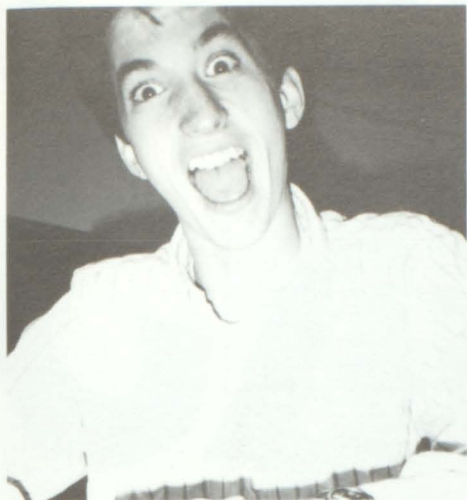

I've taught you all my tricks
 Now you have taken to deep waters
 And like I always told
 We'd sail just like a dream
 And I will always be there
 Sailing deep upon the waters
 And you will never ever see the last of me

Don't lose heart
 It's the beginning not the end
 It's just a start you've found a family of friends
 Don't lose heart
 And I'll be back with you again
 You've finally found a family of friends

"The things we see are the same things within us. There is no reality except the one contained within us. That is why so many people live such an unreal life. They take the images outside them for reality and never allow the world within to assert itself. You can be happy that way. But once you know the other interpretation you no longer have the choice of following the crowd."

-Herman Hess

My two years at Gould Academy were a learning and growing experience. I learned a lot about other people. I learned a lot about myself. I would like to thank all the teachers at Gould who aided me in that process. I would also like to thank my parents, the best teachers of all. Many thanks and best wishes to: J.P., Simbo, T-Bone, and Double-D.

Thanks to my family, especially my parents.

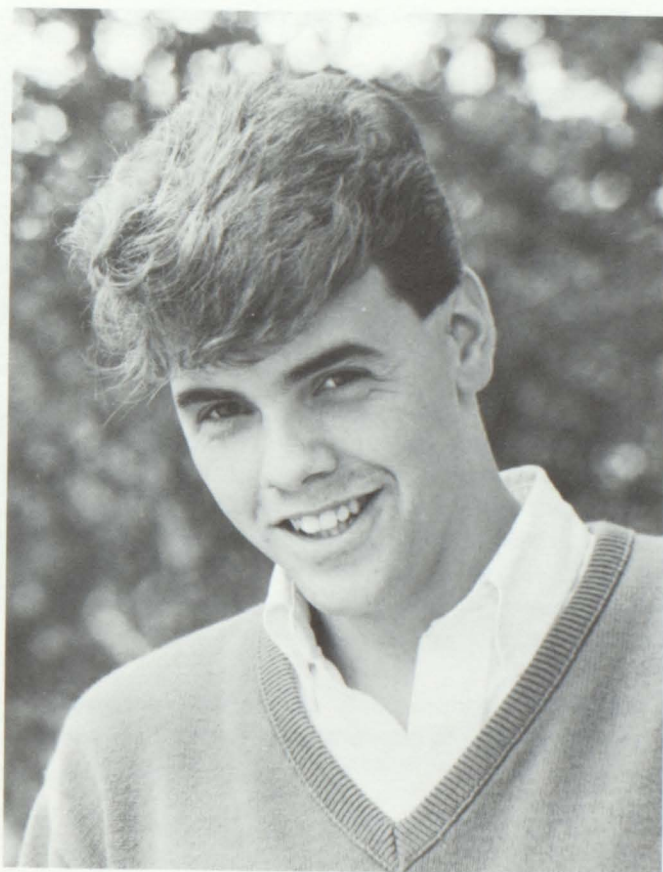

Alana-I wish we could have done this together-someday.

Cait, Meg, thanks for making my senior year . . . um
. . . well interesting . . . I love you two.

Very special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hill and to Mrs. Fiske, without their friendship I'd still be on Outward Bound.

Heather-Thanks for telling me about Gould, remember it's all your fault (my parents also, thank-you for helping me get out of the house).

Georgia, Ellie, Nancy, Gofok-words fail me-xoxo. Thanks to anyone I may have forgotten, like Heidi for instance!! Thanks Heidi! Oh + thanks to Charlotte for making me laugh.

Activities: All kinds.

"Ahzgemagjema!!", "Irrrr . . . "- famous quotes.

First of all, I thank my parents and not my sister. I can't believe I've completed high school so quickly. Gould has been an experience for me and I thank Gould and all my happy teachers for it. Also, thanks to all the neat and wierd people who have become my friends over the past two years. It's been fun . . . I think.

ANGELA ADAMS

I'm being forced to write this before I've had some time to actually sit down and contemplate about the past years I've spent at Gould. (Oh well, it's probably better this way.) Some people have class and say thanks to "you know who you are". As for me, well
I'm going to name names. To my suite mates of 86' there will never be another better than ours, we had what they call, Cosmic Connections. As for the faculty, well, I'd like to thank you all. Without having known you I would still think (to coin a phrase) that all teachers are sub-human. A special and warm thanks to Mr. Baker without whom all this would never be possible.

And then there's Eric . . . Somehow words don't seem to do justice to my thoughts of you. All can I say is, Mush, Mush.

GREG NG

I have spent the last four years here asking myself, Why? Was it all worth it? Was it a mistake? I don't know yet. Ask me again later. The best thing that I had experienced at Gould were all the people that passed my way. All of those who were close to me will always hold a special place in my heart. Memories serve their purpose.

To my mom and dad and my family who were supportive of me from the start, thanks, I love you all. Have a pleasant tomorrow.

SHAWN LASKER

What's it all been for?
We won't know till it's over.
Till then we have to live each day
as it were our last.
One day it will be
and you will know the answer.

Thanks to Mr. Feeney and all my other teachers who made my three years possible.

To my friends you're the best anyone could have. To Greg my roommate, Duh!

Thanks Mom and Dad for believing in me.

"Some luck lies in not getting what you thought you wanted but getting what you have, which once you have it you may be smart enough to see is what you would have wanted had you known." — Garrison Keillor

Sometimes I feel like this is the answer to growing up: You go around in circles but you make sense in the end. I have found a lot of circles here, and a lot of clear thought. Things begin to make sense.

I have been lucky to get what I'd never heard of here at Gould.

What does this mean? It means that the experiences I have had with so many other people have just been super. But, Mom and Dad, three isn't a crowd, not in the woods. "Soon we will be two ships aglow with the fire of thought." Jon, take a walk on the wild side, and don't forget to starve a little. Hi Molly! Who is the big purple loser Mr. Chandler?

"To thine own self be true." Singing to myself. A lot of years spent trying to find too much stuff. Do everything you possibly can. "The time fore-ordained unto the peoples and kindreds of the earth is now come." Deciding what to do. The Dynamic Force of Example. Trying to talk to some people. Summers on Chebeague Is.-now and then. Fiona, Brian, Phil, Allison, we have control. Fiona, why do we always walk so fast, stay up so late?

Tim, Mr. Siegel; the purest people I know. Thanks for the super examples! Trying to start to write. Procrastination, being late. "I'm sorry I missed your class Mr. Davis, I was taking a test with Mr. McGuire." Long tests. David Dixon's influence on my blue fishing. We should have but the thing in Mr. Hill's bed. I was Mr. Jessen's advisee. Always eating, hardly ever swearing. Mark V.W. (history). A spaz on water skis. Staying up late. Wearing glasses. Growing beards. Playing the drums for hours; being impulsive and having imagination. Proctorship. Gee wizzacers! Fou! Great words. Mr. Doodle and the ducks. Being a Baha'i. Jami and Stacy; we are strong.

Mom and Dad; I hope I can live as fully as you.

Walk with me and talk with me
 And say you'll be my friend
 And together we'll work out a harmony
 Our road will never end

Although our roads are different
 Just watch as they converge
 We've a job to do together now
 Our song it must be heard

And when you're down I'll bring you up
 And when you're up I'll laugh with you
 And together we'll share a piece of mind
 That only true friends can find.

Thank you, Owens, Mr. Cousins, Johnsons and especially Mr. Graham. You have guided and helped me through my last two years at Gould. Thank you.

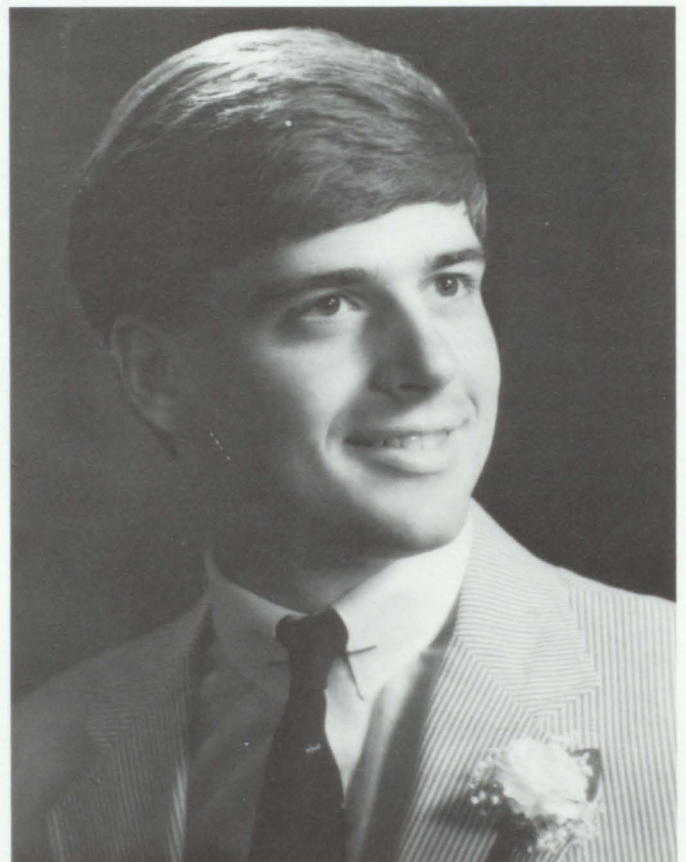

What tie will it be next year?

Mr. Newell-five bucks says the Sox repeat!! Keep Alec in line. He needs the help!

J.P.- By the time we get the yearbooks the sox would have already taken the series in four. Have a good year. Simbe-Where's U2. Sarah-keep in touch-love ya! Carrie-Good luck! You're right '85 was the best. Bronny-Take care of Kev. Mattson (BLIP)-We're going to have the best summer in '87 no matter where we end up working. Your a great friend-Thanks. My best friend Peter Bizier-You're the best Biz. We had a lot of memorable times. Remember the . . . and the . . . What about the . . . Oh well, no personal messages. Thanks a lot Pete. It was great!!!

To Gould Academy-My three years at Gould were the best three years of my life. Thank-you. It was all worth it.

And to the best of the best Mom and Dad-Thank you; I LOVE YOU. If it wasn't for five year seniors. Where would the world be?

I get by with a little help from my friends.

To everyone at Gould: Thanks for everything and I wish you the best of luck in the future

To all my friends at Simsbury: Thank you for remembering me and let's not forget all the good times.

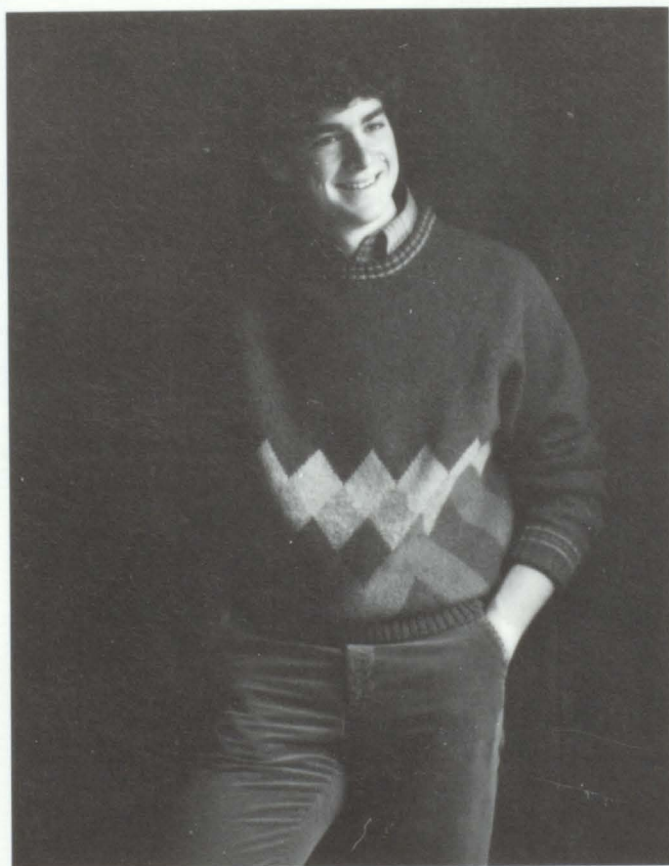

Thank you to Mr. Feeney, Mr. Cousins, Mr. Hill. Dr. O., Mr. Rackliffe, and especially Mr. Graham. You guys really made a difference.

And special thanks to Mom and Dad and my family. You guys are great! ILY

This is my first year here at Gould and last year in Gould. I want to stay here more than a year. But my limit is only one school year or ten months. Now I cannot speak or hear English. By the time this book will be published, I would like to be good at speaking and hearing English. And I thank all the students for helping me. Someone taught me a New English. It was very useful and funny. I want to meet you someday.

DAMARIS HAGGE

Remember not to forget. Many thanks to all who helped along the way especially: Mike (without him I wouldn't be here), Dr. D and Mr. Newell (who believed in me even when I didn't), Mr. Coffee (who gave me courage to get up in the morning), Alison, Maddy and David, Marc S., Erica, Tim Curry, and the entire state of California. Most of all, thanks to Mom and Dad. I treat you like dirt but you know I love you.

To Peter my best friend, my roommate and my buddy: Thank-you for some of the best times of my life and all the special memories. I love you and I believe in you . . . Someday the derby, but I can wait.

Other stuff I like, track and field, the high jump, cycling, hard skiing, Ben and Jerries (Heathbar), Jared's music, Mr. Baker's bike, free solo, Barney's impressions, skiing Tuckermans (headwall), not being the tallest person on campus, my Zallen friends.

Things that bug me: riding 50 miles with one pedal, Reagan's policies, Not clearing 6'6", gummy rats, the smell of Zallen on certain days.

Thanks everyone for making my stay at Gould an interesting and enjoyable year. Especially Zallen Zombies. And thank you Mom and Dad for giving me this opportunity in the first place.

SPORTS

VARSITY

The 1986 Varsity Field Hockey Team members had a challenging, fun and needless to say . . . interesting experience. Miss Mellett kept us on our toes (and the ground). We quickly discovered that she took no mercy on her players. A highlight of the season was when she convinced the faculty to challenge us to a game. The final score was a tie, with Dr. Dresser only allowing one goal. We remained the Goddesses of Field Hockey after playing Holderness in a long hard game, which ended in a tie after overtime.

A QUICK OVERVIEW:

The Victory Dance and pre-game meditation.

After going for the "pads" against Waynelete, they decided not to play us again.

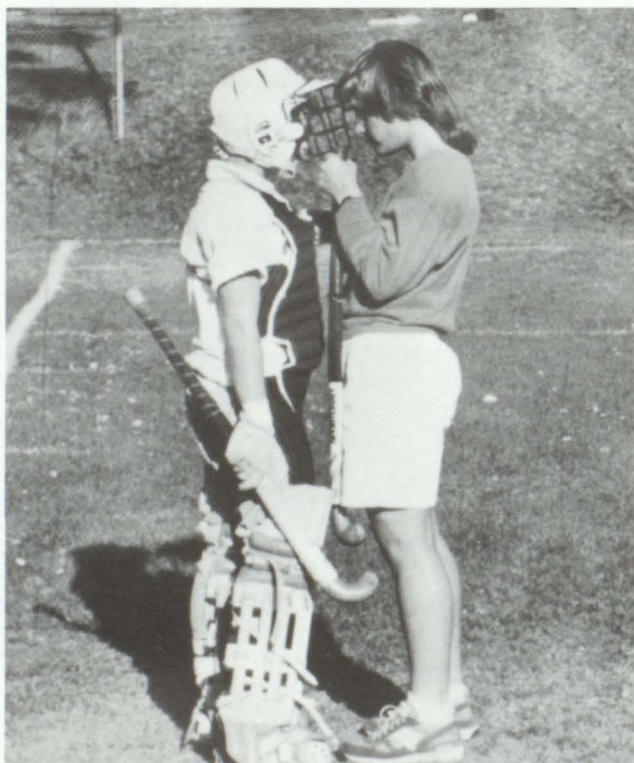

The Kents Hill Madonna — wanna be's.

And the Hebron "softball" team.

A Great Season! Thank-you Miss. Mellett (especially for the delicious team dinner).

JUNIOR VARSITY

We are the hockey girls, we wear our hair in curls . . . The 1986 J.V. Field Hockey Team had its ups and downs. Its ups were: Making Mrs. Rackliffe play everyday because there were never enough players for a team, Gretchen's hair, the four dollars per person at McDonalds, beating Hebron both times! Bus ride sing-a-longs, mudwrestling and mooning by Mandy and Amanda, Good Job Treena, Eh Ordway! Danah and Lisa's New Yawrk attitude towards field hockey, and playing in the rain . . . Our down's were: Our record, our illnesses(?), and number 8 on Tilton's Field Hockey Team.

Soccer, you're still a bunch of wimps!

By the way, Mrs. Ratt, you have a groovy outfit! All in all, it was a fun season and we learned a lot. Thanks to Mrs. Rackliffe — we love you!

AWARD WINNER: Coach's Award — Laura Ordway.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Asked: What do you think of when you hear the words Women's Soccer? A student elected the response:

"The Woman's Soccer Team is a mixture of bathing beauties and Goddesses of Health who glided towards victory."

Yes, it is indeed true. Women's Soccer of 1986 strove for excellence and even won a few games. Through their unfaltering leadership, Susan Isham and Barbie Robinson steered the team towards our ultimate goal- to play a good game and have an excellent time. We spent a majority of our time jammed in a bus to and from games, eating fries and sharing walkmans. The hours we dedicated solely to our sport were truly the highlights of our autumn days. The glory of BEATING HEBRON and the tension of overtime with Waynflete are gone but never forgotten. And speaking of departure — to the Seniors:

Jen with your mondo muscles, Barbie with your Rasta hair, Sue, our one woman cheering squad, Elaine with the Betty Boop do, Missy, the picture of dedication, Gaelle, our French Foriegn Aide, and Angela, our ultimate animal.

Always remember and never forget

Real women don't carry sticks, Real women kick balls!

CROSS COUNTRY RUNNING

Kerflip (Gasp!). Kerflop (Gasp!).

These are the sounds familiar to the cross country runner. The cross country runner is brave, strong and above all takes the initiative. Cross country changed the life of every runner. For some, the realization was the ability to go beyond physical and mental limits. Others realized they would never willfully run again. Under the strong leadership of Coach "Mac" Davis and Coach "Bon Bon" Pooley the season was enjoyable and challenging.

MEN'S SOCCER

VARSITY — The men's varsity soccer squad had a season of ups and downs. We started off strong, winning the first games against tough competitors. As mid-season hit us, so did a slump. Fortunately, we won five of the last seven games. The team made the playoffs to face the tough N.Y.A. squad. The well played game ended with a 3-1 victory for N.Y.A.

The team will graduate seniors: Barney Boyd, Ny Mao, Pat Sambrook, Rick Thomas, and captains Peter Bizier and Derek Dresser.

High hopes are on hand for the sixteen returning players to have a great season next year.

J.V. "B" — The J.V. "B" Soccer Team, the Killer B's, had a record of 9 wins and 1 loss and a great season. Although we did not get much spectator support, we still had fun and won at the same time. Vigorous practice was not needed, our natural talent brought us through the games. Sesan Oyeniyi, leading scorer, at right wing, Tom Pena in the center, and Brett Bloomberg at left wing made an unstoppable front line. Overall, the team worked together and improved tremendously over the course of the season.

COACHES AWARD: Sesan Oyeniyi.

SNOW SPORTS

Jumping

The '86-'87 season was a building year for the Gould Academy Jumping Team. Since the '84-'85 season was the last year the jumping team existed and because nearly all the veterans graduated, Coach Wight had to start fresh.

The team included Aaron Sasseville, Sarah Cross, Derek Dresser, Kevin Vandenburg, and Mike Wilson. Even though there were injuries throughout the season, the team attended meets at Proctor, Holderness, Vermont Academy, and Kimball Union Academy. Mr. Wight was a great coach. He was consistently patient and dedicated. Thanks for a great season. We'll be back next year — Aaron Sasseville

Cross Country Skiing

Thanks to great coaching and improving skiers the team made steady progress. The three seniors on the team, Jon Komlosy, Tim Hodsdon, and Richard Shew, made the core of the team. Ben Michaud seemed almost a superman at times as he burned up the tracks, capping off an excellent season by travelling with the U.S. Junior Biathlon to Finland for competition.

Jim Palmer and Kevin Davis battled each other all year, adding depth to the team. Paige Christie and Patrice Leary, the experienced skiers on the girl's team, always finished strongly. Priya Wadhera and Jen Tabor both improved measurably in their first season on skies, rounding off a girls team that competed well for its size.

The Quebec trip in December was, as always, a success, proving beneficial and quite eventful. The skiing was great and the nightlife . . .

One highlight of the season was the Maisad Championships at Hebron, in which the boys and girls finished second to two strong Freyburg teams. The season climaxed at Vermont Academy, where the New England Prep. School Championships took place. Out of a field of twelve of the finest ski teams in New England, the boys took third and the girls took fifth; the best finish for Gould in many years.

Many thanks to Mr. Siegel for a great season and fun times. Also thanks Mr. Davis — our trail manager and busdriver, Mr. Johnson for his technical advise, Jim Palmer for accommodating us in his house, and Patrice Leary and her family for their beds and hospitality. Thanks also to the Michauds, Hodsdons, and Christies for their help and to everyone else who helped make this a great season. Good luck next year! — Kevin Davis

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Gould's Mens Varsity Basketball Team returned to the S.P.A. this season after playing the past four years in prep. school leagues. Their reinstatement into the public school league was a smashing success as the Huskies compiled win after win striving not only for victory but also for Heal points. Leading the way were Captain Kurt Crandall (25.6 ppg.), Ron Burt (6.7 ppg.), Pete Bizier (3.5 ppg.), Alec Newell (10 ppg.), Jordy Almgren (4.9 ppg.) and Alex Nevens (10 ppg.). Gould also received outstanding effort from its bench as the reserves were always ready to enter the game and contribute or provide support from the sidelines.

Through the direction of Coach Richard Dohrmann, the Huskies finished the regular season with a 10-3 record, and were ranked fourth in the Western Class D. In the post season tournament, the Huskies faced the Tigers of Oak Grove in the quarterfinals and cruised to a 67-46 victory. They then earned the right to play the number one seed Buckfield in the semi-finals. After being blown out by twenty points in the first half, Gould came storming back in the third period to close the gap to five. However, the Buckfield Bucks stalled in the fourth quarter and made 10-11 of their foul shots in the waning moments to come away with a 76-63 victory, putting an end to the outstanding season for the Gould Academy boys.

The J.V. Basketball's record 6-5 does not reflect the good team we had. With more luck we could have won some close games.

The four high scorers were Marc Bee averaging 12, Todd Kirn, the Team Captain, averaging 10, and Thomas Pena and Alfonso Torres averaging 8 points each. Marc Bee had the most points of the season with 121 and had the team high score for one game with 27 points. Todd Kirn was second with 109.

Highlights of the season were beating Telstar 74 to 60 after previously losing to them and defeating undefeated Kents Hill in a close game. Thanks Mr. Feeney.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

An Ode to the Liberty Bells

The league-less Golden Grams had an amusing but losing season. At first it seemed as if to be a promising season but . . . The second game proved that McDonald's was better than winning.

Highlights of the season were . . .

Coffey-break (a.k.a. Missionary Woman), Tinkerbell (Mandy — "Hey Mandy wave those arms"),

Air Allen ("the basket Beth, the basket . . ."), Steroids ("wiggie that butt", "a little bit lighter Heather"),

"Brush your teeth in a safer place Sara W.",

Ma Moo! We love you!, Brick Robinson ("you can't make 'em all the time!"), Ish, you UFO! Try looking when you're shooting!

Stacey, you fouler you! 14 all the way! Danah you rebound queen! Way to be!

Much thanks Gramster for your support and jokes. Good-bye Barbie and Sue we love you. To the team: Hey guys, We'll take the wins and the loses because it was fun and in the end we were A TEAM! — Thanks Barbie and Sue

Top row: Coach Graham, M. McKeown, S. Whalen, B. Allen, S. Coffey, H. Starets, M. Little, D. Ludvick, S. Sumner, mgr. H. Boody. Kneeling: captains-B. Robinson, S. Isham.

This year marked the first in many that Gould had an official J.V. Women's Basketball Team. Everyone contributed to our colorful team.

First our captain, Ruthie "Oh no, I got the ball!" Giles, broke her record and scored her first two points in two years in the last game of the season. Next are our freshmen Joanna "the Shor" Donaldson and Alice "Killer" Colyear. Both astounded capacity crowds with their basketball debuts. "Killer" reached her scoring goal, and "the Shor" amazed everyone by flying out of nowhere to attack ball or a person (whichever was closest). When it came to getting rebounds, Damaris Hagge's nails not only managed to scare and leave marks on other teams but our team as well. Lydia Bevin, a newcomer to the sport, learned how to get really viscious under the basket, earning her many fouls. We also have Mary "Spud" Ring whose fits of joy, anger, frustration and original approach to the sport managed to amuse and confuse us all. Last but not least we have Lisa Dawson and Danah Ludvick who brought their basketball talents from the Big Apple to the apple core of Bethel. Danah became high scorer and Lisa always had helpful advice to give.

Overall, we finished the season with a 0-9 record and an almost victory over Waynflete (27-26). We learned more than just basketball this season and there were no regrets; right Mr. Fiske?

WOMEN'S LACROSSE

Top Row: C. Burnell, K. Chester, M. Burk, A. Colyear, L. Ordway, M. Clark, N. Smith, J. Young, B. Allen, N. McElhinney, R. Ashworth, A. Ford. Kneeling: P. Leary, M. Ring, A. Jylkka, C. Pope, D. Hogge, B. Garnett, S. Coffey.

The 1987 season was dominantly a growing year, the majority of the team being sophomores, with a sprinkling of freshman, juniors, and two seniors. The offense was led by the shooting machine, Sarah Coffey, center, abidexterous Beth Allen, and the Pass and Catch Queen, Amy Ford. Mary Ring pulled us through with a few suprising goals, and Caroline Crease also had a way of bringing it around. On defense we had Ordway, who was especially good at picking up all the open men, and Monika Burke with happy feet and lightning speed. Patrice and Amanda were new but quick learners, and added a special reserve to the defense. Becca had the interceptions and blocks tied up by the end of the season, and Nikki proved to be an aggressor and hustled to the ground balls. Marika improved incredibly throughout the season, as did Nancy and Kate. Robin gets the injury award for the year, and of course we can't forget Courtney, who saved quite a few when the going got tough.

It was a good season. Special thanks to Nikki's dad for his support, The Coffey's, and Coaches Meller and Head. Don't forget-Bug Busters, grey hairs, Hit Hard!, All Stars, "OK Girls", 4-wings, D-wings, we sure couldn't have done it without Alice-thanks for the oranges!

The 1987 Cycling Season was a successful one with the organization of the first Maine State Prep. Cycling League. Throughout the season the team had many strong finishes, including 1st, 2nd and 3rd at Kent's Hill home race. The team also competed in some Lakes Region Races in New Hampshire. At New Hampton the team finished 3rd out of 10 schools, and at White Mountain we finished 4th. With the help of Mark Ford, Wildi Riddell, Edwin Johnson, and Ben Prendergast, the stock value for tire and tube companies jumped incredibly this spring. Good luck next year!

GOLF

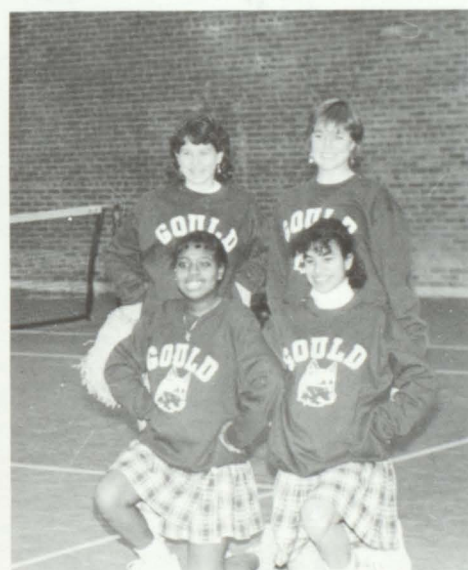

The 1987 Golf Team at Gould who was known as to as "The Dirty Dozen" terrorized curses and players around Maine. The team's record was a consistant 3-3 of dual match play. The team leader Todd "maching gun" Kirn, finished the year with 5 wins and only 1 loss. The rest of the teams members are as follows: John "smoke-um" Holmes, Marc "slice" Bee, Charlie "duh" Adams, Cory "quick-sand" Lard, Chris "previsional" Dorr, Doug "worm burner" Solman, Garrett "Ding" Gerrard, Stuart "woodsie" Newall" Jeremy "no show" Evans, Kevin "hay-fever" Mattson and John "lives in the valley" Cohen.

ACTIVITIES

OUTING CLUB

During the fall season while soccer, and cross country were going on, there was a medium sized group that went by the name of "Outing Club". This group trought through swamps, hiked big mountains, canoed beautiful lakes, and even rock climbed 100 degree angles. This group was also a great help to the Gould community. One day the group was asked to stack a barn full of hay. With no hesitations or mumbles from the group, the Club managed to stock it in almost recorded time. What an energetic group! The group consists of: John Cole (What do you mean "we're not climbing?"; "This is all we're climbing?"); Aaron Sasseville (Spidey); Jeff Stollier (I love rock to rock climb.); Dave Barstow (An outdoorsman kind of guy.); John Cohen (tension, TENSION!); Danielle Hansler (Mr. Chandlerrrrrrr); Matt Goldberg (I'm not commando, I think I'm James Dean.); Ben Klein (It's 4:10, where are all my women?); Tom Kucera (I need a razor.); Charlotte Reid (?); Alan Schmitz (I made a mistake in coming here.); Doug Solman (Walking advertisment for Anhauser Busch); Chris Adams (Where are my Ray-Bans?); Chip Strait (What do you mean I have to pull out?); John Lowe (H.S. "I want to be famous!", but that would be scarry); Garrette Gerard (Give me my bowl); Alec Bennett (Why am I here?); Amanda Jylkka (Getting geeked is better than being here!);

Marika Clark (I need a cigarettell); Shaun Lasker (Doughboy does live??); Last but not least there is Rob (Winger) Ouwinga (Rob don't tip the canoell Splash!!). The staff consisted of Mr. Feeney, Mrs. Owen, Mr. Chandler, Mr. Hill, and maybe once or twice Mr. McGuire.

MOUNTAIN DAY

Life at Gould can be quiet and unthreatening for weeks until blood boils and tempers flair. Activities and studies can put enough pressure on the students to the point of bursting. Teachers also feel the tension; attempting to encourage the unencourageables.

There is only one solution: MOUNTAIN DAY!! This year's Mountain Day achieved its purpose as a release valve.

The day was one of symbolic fasting to remember the hungry around the world. A limit of two apples per person was declared which precipitated a great event: "The Great Rush For Goodies".

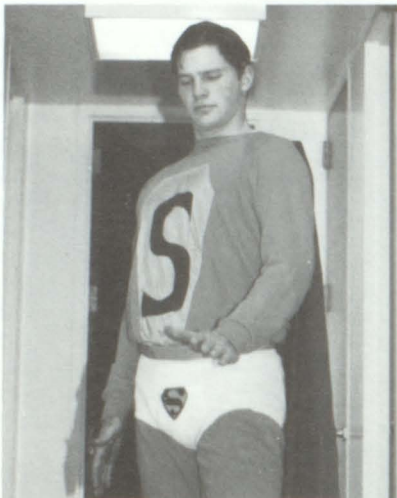

After teachers and students were divided into groups of ability and choice the anxious Gouldies were whisked off, with extra Telstar buses, to Evan's Notch in the White Mountain National Forest. The day was fun, and after a crowded lunch the bus ride was time enough to reflect on the day and begin anew with refreshed vigor.

HALLOWEEN . . .

AND MORE FALL STUFF . . .

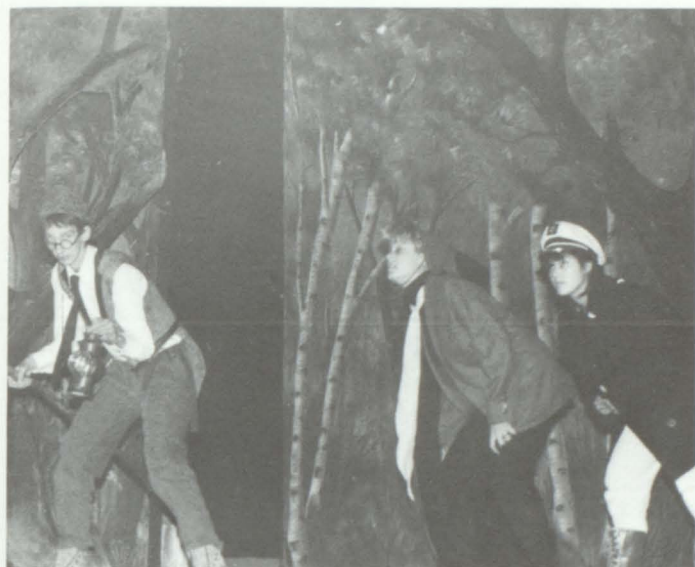

THE COOKIE MACHINE

A typical Friday morning assembly? Hardly! It all began with the fearless proctors explaining to Gould the trust fall and a process call the "cookie machine". The "cookie machine" was constructed of the student body and teachers lined up to Hanscom. Mr. Clough was then shuffled on the school's arms to his office. The machine's success was tremendous with the undulating movement of Mr. Clough, "The Glacier", steady and completed after only twenty minutes. Mr. Clough, who was hoping for an easy Friday before a full weekend, was quoted to say, "UG, my neck is stiff!"

The whole event will be remembered as the day of triumph for the "Clough Cookie Machine". What does the future hold? It is the author's opinion that every Gould faculty member should participate in the machine to achieve full unity at Gould and more good laughs.

The stage opens on a mound of earth. Two narrators begin the tale that has grown up with families generations ago, and is still a classic, read by young people and old. Suddenly, the mound of earth moves . . . still again . . . moves again. Out flies the aftermath of Mole's spring cleaning. The Mole himself emerges, and with a "Hang Spring Cleaning", his adventures begin.

The audience is taken through Graham's half — man, half — animal world with a minimum of versatile props, and good lighting effects to show seasons and places. Many of the props were moved about the cast itself, which was an effective way to move the audience without stopping the action. Indoors and outdoors blended together, lending an "animality" to all of the scenes.

A hard thing to overcome was the conversion of the book into play form, but the cast did an excellent job capturing the dry and subtle British sense of humor, as well as the overall theme of the book in their rendition. Graham's ideas carried through very clearly — perhaps even more so because of the audience. The play can teach a lot of lessons to the Outside World, even though Ratty, Lynn Kumre, and Mole, Kim Simmons, never went there. We will be embarking on our own adventures very soon. Friendships and home will be just as important to us as it is to Otter; Jenny Coffey, Mole, Badger; Jake Boone, and Ratty — especially if we are as rash and headstrong as Toad; Darren Green. The production delighted and taught at the same time, and this seems to be exactly what Graham meant his book to do.

WINTER CARNIVAL '87

With the theme Sesame Street and King J. Palmer and Queen C. Reid, Winter Carnival was a great success!! Highlights included snowsculptures, toboggan racing, and special appearances by Cyndi Lauper, The Village People, and Elvis Costello.

In the end, when the snow had settled and points were tallied, Davidson had taken the covered title from the once supreme Holden Dorm. The Winter Carnival Plaque belongs to Davidson this year, but Holden and Gehring are already making plans for next year.

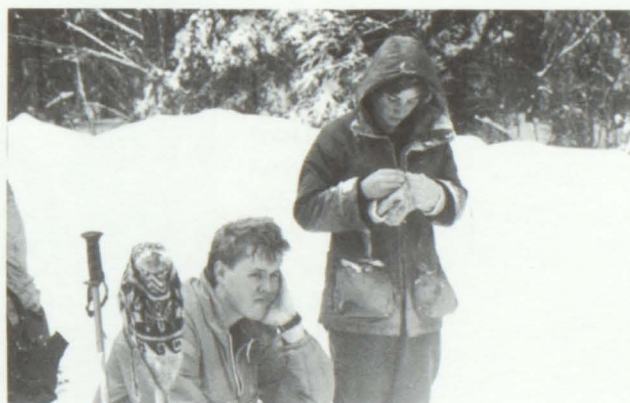

WINTER STUFF

WINTER MOUNTAINEERS

Everest? K2? What next? Or should we get some more firewood? Winter Mountaineering seemed to wind down down before it really wound up. Everyone was sad that it ended so soon. Besides mountain peaks, many heights were reached in this small group. And many depths were probed — some unfortunately with evil lurking rocks. Cliff jumping was the sport and a broken leg was the end of that, when the guy with the funny first name got a chance to practice his outdoor medicine. When rock and ice grew boring, the ever-active winter mountaineers turned their attention to trees, and spent five days climbing and gathering select trees for the spectacular Winter Carnival bonfire. And the snow architecture — massive palaces of luxuriant culinary efficiency. All that firewood gathering was sure worth it at night when it got cold and you could sit in the warm smoke and dry out (or melt) boots. When they could not be found in the mountains (which indeed was rare), the mountaineers could be found doing Jane Fonda aerobics and dreaming of the peaks to be climbed, and the endless supply of firewood for those unforgettable nights around the fire . . .

PLAYERS

February 6, 8:00 Bingham Auditorium
'87HK

"What would you like to drink?", and they are off again. Everyone has something to say, even if he is standing in anti-materialistic bowling shoes that are great for both fall and winter. Most everyone did have something to say in the Gould Academy Players' presentation of Close Ties, a humorous but deep meaning play on how people relate, or fail to. Love is just a fancy name for security? Hmmm . . . maybe, but who will tell Grandmother when she is over the edge?

A large audience of parents, teachers, and students chortled and chuckled as they watched scenes of senile mother with daughter, sister with sister, college daughter with mother. There was some aspect of the human encounter for almost all to recognize, even when a smoke cloud rolled across stage smelling suspiciously of burned popcorn. Oh well, so much for the midnight snack . . . But wasn't the conversation great?

Of course, one of the great advantages of growing old is that you don't care what people think anymore, so grandmother can say whatever she wants and she can cut the vines on the summer house. Or can she? Since there is never any decent bread in the refrigerator, I guess you will have to talk instead of eat. The Gould Academy Players managed to do both however, so you can ask them what the answer is . . .

SENIOR 4-POINT

At the start the World Hunger Problem was not an idea I concerned myself with. Since the only hunger I have experienced is the growl of my stomach before deciding on pizza or a hamburger, the problem was difficult to comprehend.

After Mr. Starets gave the Hunger Briefing, discussions began and hunger became an issue. In and out of our groups we dealt with world hunger in very personal ways. As the senior class ended Four Point and left for vacation, I realized the real achievement in studying the issue was to approach a problem that went beyond self-focusing worlds. I think that whether we choose to ignore, accept, or deny the problem is an insight as to the way we have chosen to approach life. The way we chose to deal with the World Hunger Problem was our own. -Eric Mader

JUNIOR 4-POINT

What is it anyway; this 'Outward Bound'?', you may well ask. The question taunted me throughout March break. Outward Bound had a different effect on everyone, and although it is hard to explain, it is worth trying. Even though people went into the trip with mixed feelings everyone was affected by the experience. This is because the social barriers and everyday rush to get nowhere fast had disappeared. The only worries were to reach the destination and keep the group together.

I thought my group had a positive attitude because even when we suffered from sun stroke, and fought over routes to take, meals to cook, and the chores, we learned to trust each other and stick together.

After the trip I asked myself, "What was the purpose anyway? Why spend eight days in the woods?" There is no solid answer but the trip did effect me and does effect me now. It gave me a perspective on one person's size in the world. During my solo I thought these people and the important things I should be aware of and shouldn't forget.

In coming away, I feel that more Outward Bounds need to be explored.- Sam McGee

The Sophomore point involved making musical instruments and learning to play them. We were divided into groups depending on which instrument we aspired to play.

I feel certain constructing the instruments had nothing to do with the Sophomore point, but was an indirect test of patience, persistence and the ability to glue pieces of wood together that would not do so within the laws of science.

When we finally got the strings on our instruments (except Todd, who never quite mastered that) we took some lessons and practiced much. At the end of the week we joined together around our combustion free camp fire in Bingham to play a few tunes, like "Bile' Dem Cabbage Down" and "Hot Cross Buns". We discovered that though our music perhaps lacked the sophistication of Jim Scott, DOA and even Old Grey Goose, it had a definite personal charm.

Now when I retrieve my mandolin from deep within the depths of my closet and I am politely asked to leave the room, I remember the one week we were all accomplished and appreciated musicians. -Heidi Dixon

FRESHMAN 4-POINT

The Freshman Four Point to Washington DC was fun. The class was separated into two groups. The first left Friday in two vans. They spent that night relaxing and mellowing in the hot tub at the Thomas' beautiful home in New Jersey. The next day they stopped at Gettysburg and were treated to tour by Mr. Hill.

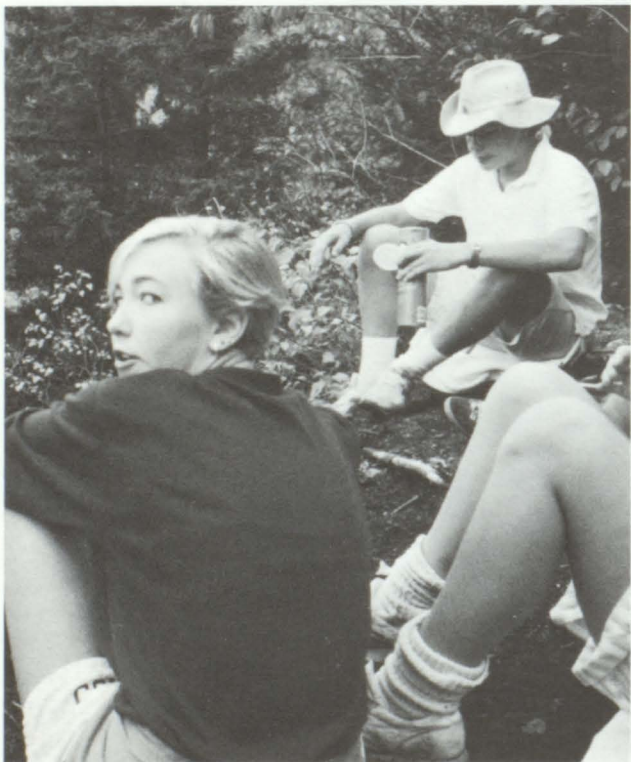

The others left on Saturday for a nine hour train trip. After a nights rest they headed out to Mount Vernon, and had lunch by the Lincoln Memorial. The visit to the Vietnam Memorial was a moving experience.

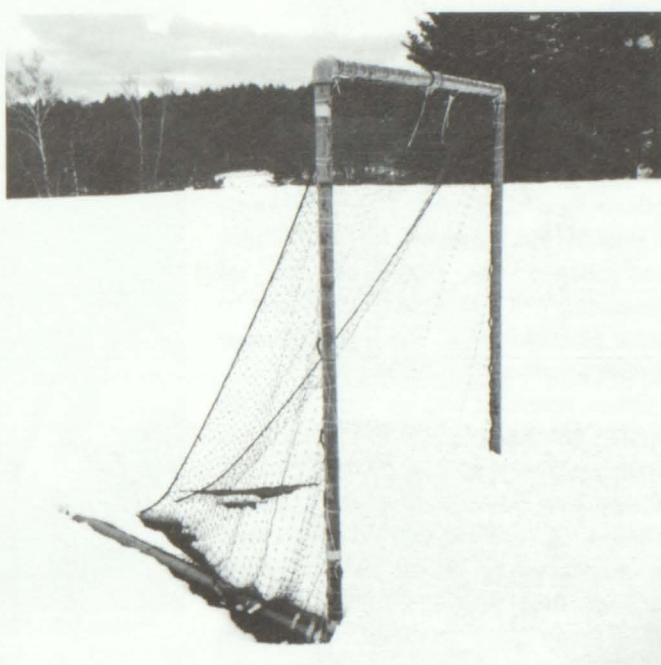

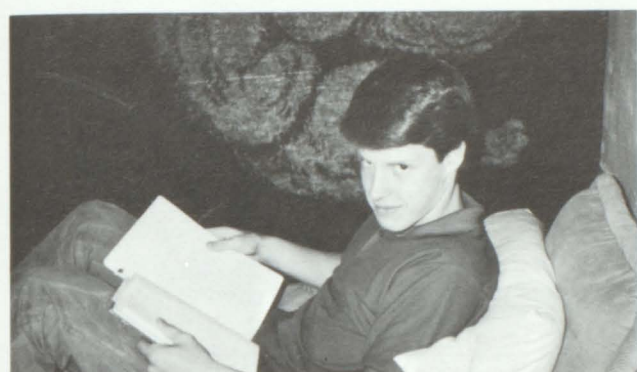

For the next few days the freshmen class was very busy. They met with Attorney General Jim Tierney and Senator George Mitchell. One afternoon while relaxing, Mr. Fiske taught some how to play poker, while others got lost on the subway trying to go shopping.

At the end of the trip, Mr. Newell said to Kate, "This Bonnie and Clyde relationship is over. I'm a happily married man-don't get me wrong-it was great while it lasted. But I'm going home to my wife today, it's over . . ."

We greatly appreciate the hospitality of the Thomas'. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Cousins, Mr. Dohrmanm, Mr. and Mrs. Fiske, Mr. Newell, Mrs. Hill, and especially our group leader, Mr. Hill.-Priya Wadhera

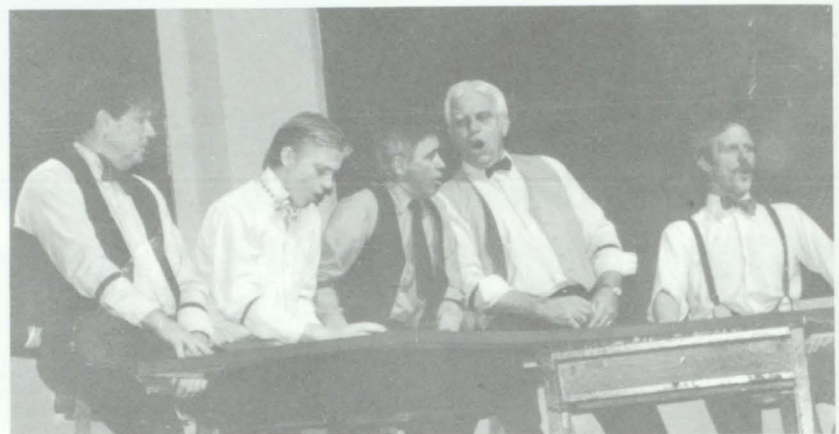

FIORELLO

What a cast! What a crew! What a performance! Under the superb direction of Carol Fiske, Fiorello delighted and amazed audiences with an enthusiastic barrage of dancing, singing, and admirable acting.

With the help of Tom Ford (Technical Director), Heidi Dixon (Choreography Director), Greg Ng (Stage Manager), and of course the excellent band of Sam Lazarre (piano), Kay Stanley (electric piano), and Kevin Mattson (drums) Fiorello was bound to be a success.

Top performances were given by the whole cast, but a few, experienced acting on the Gould stage for a first time. Tim Bevin (a senior of Shelburne, N.H.) portrayed the lead role of Fiorello LaGuardia and Heather Sparks (a junior of Boston Ma.) played his wife Thea. Matt Jones (a post-graduate of Worcester, Ma.), Neil and Eric Mader (a senior of Edgartown, Ma.), Morris were Fiorello's trusted right-hand men.

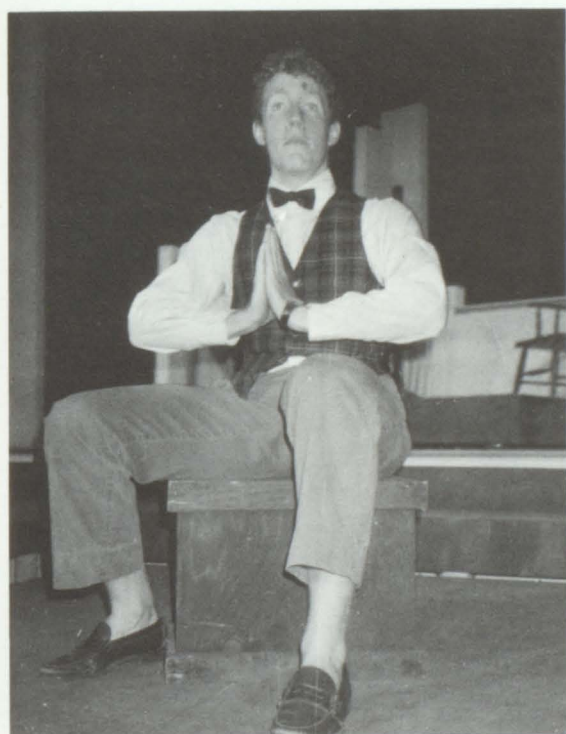

Other notables include Cait Winn (a senior of Topsham, Me.) as the secretary, Tim Hodsdon (a senior of T7-R9, Me.) as Floyd McDuff, Molly Lauch (a senior of Portland, Me.) as Dora, and Jon KomLosy (a senior of Yarmouth, Me.) as Ben. These veterans of the Gould stage gave the final contribution to help Fiorello come to life before the eyes of applauding audiences.

REACHOUT

The mood of our society is slowly changing from a spend thrift, throw away attitude of "let the other guy worry", to a more concerned and involved group of people thinking of the futures of others. Consequently, this year was a vintage one for Reachout.

At the beginning of the year, Dr. Ouwinga's classroom was packed with new members of this worthy organization. Now near the end of the year, the numbers are fewer, but the positive influence is no less.

The highlight of the year for Reachout was the announcement that the organization and its members had won the America's Future Award, presented by WCSH television. Reachout was nominated the award by Mrs. Pooley, unknown to everyone else. The surprise and excitement was complete when the members of Reachout were interviewed and given sixty seconds of prime time television at least once daily. The members expressed their views on the importance of Reachout does in the community of Gould, the larger community of Bethel, and even the world community.

This years Consortium reached new records, one totaling one hundred dollars, which was sent to Claudia Lopez, of Guatamala, whom they sponsor. Reachout was invited to attend the Maine State Parade, hopefully a tradition that will continue.

The participation and good honest desire to help, that all the Reachout members expressed and followed through on, was what made this year an exceptionally satisfying one for Reachout.

DORMITORIES

GEHRING

Although, Gehring Hall, the home of 45 girls (women), is a popular dorm, it was nick-named The Trauma Center in the year 1987. The main problems experienced by the girls there were usually male related. A few couples who were able to withstand the pressure were-Liz & Pete, Angela & Eric, John & Emily, and Caroline & Chris. But most of the relationships fell under the stress of soap opera life.

Other problems, in the usually peaceful Gehring, included the fall polarbearing day, when Heather and Angela, ran down the hall waking people, at 6:00 am.

The roommate fights on Sunday mornings, the disruptive Study Halls, the sneaky trips down to watch T.V., and overzealous room inspections are other examples. However, the spirit of the dorm, and the constant support given by others, made Gehring a special and interesting place to live.

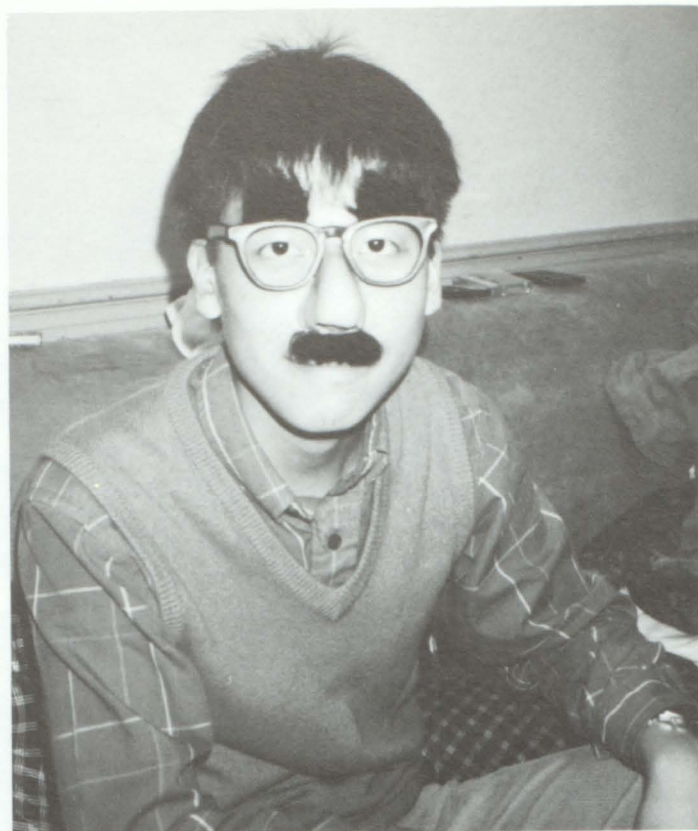

Holden Dorm

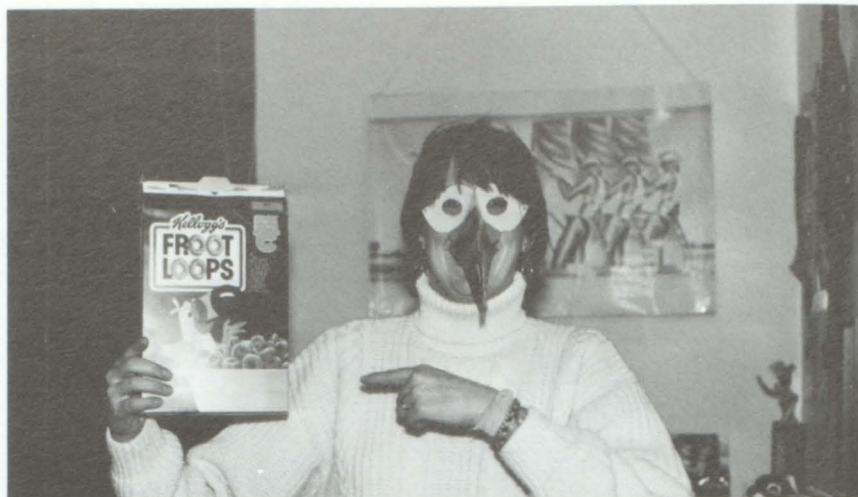

Yes, Holden is the land of men and the spirit of adolescence. It is the most famous and covered castle here in New England, and possibly the entire East Coast. It contains the sexiest men on the Western Hemisphere. Holden, it has the Vortex. It has its distinct smell. What more could anyone want in a men's dorm? A jacuzzi built for 54 would be nice. Actually make that 60, we can't forget Mr. Hill.

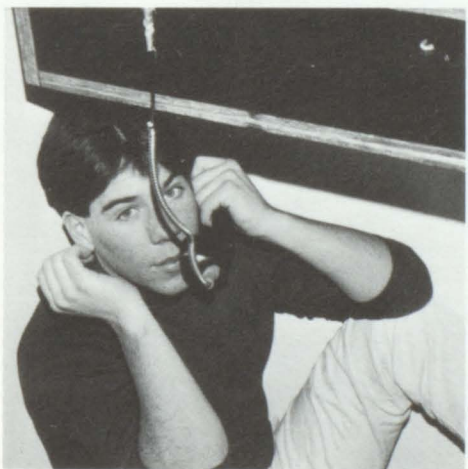

To Mr. Hill: the guys of Holden would like to wish you and your family the best of health, luck, and happiness. The dorm just wasn't the same without you.

DAY STUDENTS

Editor's Note

In a small community such as Gould, it is essential for the school's faculty and student body to be involved in many different things. The wider variety of activities builds not only a more interesting highschool experience, but gives important exposure necessary in broadening character and forming a stronger Gould. As editors of the Academy Herald, Elaine and I, were involved in an excellent example of a broadening experience. Through the long hours of typing, planning, picture taking, and developing we were forced to take the great responsibility of completing a yearbook. More importantly the Academy Herald gave us the chance to see Gould Academy work together and complete a project. Sure we felt alone for much of the time with only Ms. Lee to assist, but now its clear that there exists a genuine concern for a good yearbook. Pictures, writing, cooperation, and ideas came from the whole school. Elaine and I sincerely hope we completed a product the whole school can enjoy.

Before leaving however Elaine and I want to tell you more about being involved in activities at Gould, whether you are a student or faculty member. The involvement of students and faculty in projects such as the Academy Herald, Literary Magazine, the Community Post, Rug Rats, Reachout, or the many other activities has a direct relationship with the bonds between students and faculty. It is the extra things after school and the classroom that are going to make Gould stronger.

To this year's students: many of you expressed concern on the topics of the relationships between students and faculty, and the quality time you spend at Gould. If a richer experience is what you want, do something about it. Join the yearbook, Reachout, or a softball or basketball league. If you don't try, forget it. If you only put effort into things that have immediate rewards, then you deserve to sit in an empty experience. Rather than putting your energy in complaining, start taking advantage of the great stuff Gould Academy has to offer. Through the yearbook, Elaine and I had a good experience and made a close friend of Ms. Lee. If you want the same, put some effort into it.

To the faculty: There are so many activities that you seem to limit yourselves only to the activity you're directly involved in. To encourage students to diversify it would be helpful if you became more concerned with Gould activities on a larger scale. By keeping up with the other activities you, as an adviser, can encourage advisees in becoming involved with the school on a broader basis than maybe your advisees had not considered. Concern about Gould Academy and its students must be generated by you and can be spread by you.

Our concern is for a better Gould Academy and we are optimistic that our school can become even better. We hope the yearbook is as good as it was hard to do. We also wish the best of luck to future yearbook staffs. It's a thankless job but the rewards last longer than the work you put into it.-Eric Mader, Elaine Bicknell

THE PICKLE JAR

The struggle between good and evil has been fought throughout history. The clash is never ending and exists in everything living and spiritual. The Gould Academy Campus has become a nucleus for such struggles, which have been controlled in one material object whose surrounding glass walls act as a force shield against the internal commotion.

This battle between good and evil is for the survival of these entities in a world and a universe of weak, easily influenced individuals. In a jar the two swing in a balance and are controlled for the good of the Gould Academy man and woman.

This year the supreme responsibility for the monitoring of the conflict sits with Eric Mader of second floor Holden, room thirty. The atmosphere is constantly measured and maintained at an equilibrium between negative and positive force.

For a complete understanding, it is necessary to know the purpose of the jar and its unnatural control on the Gould Academy Campus. In the works is a master plan that was conceived four years ago by several far-sighted students. The plan is simple yet great enough to change the current and future students learning here at Gould. With the absence of good and evil the students can grow and strengthen themselves unhampered by the cosmic forces.

The schemers gave birth to their idea when the perfect holding element was found, an unobtrusive pickle jar. After a short religious ceremony, they blessed the jar and filled it with the contents. The substances chosen to represent the forces of good and evil were sacrificed to the Jar and placed in the shielding walls. For the forces of good there was a remaining classic Vlassic pickle, a big, juicy and delicious Sunkist orange, and an unwrapped Sniker's Bar. The forces of evil were represented by one, hairy, smelly rabbit's foot, a large, gross leech, and several chewed popcorn balls. As a neutral agent some face whiskers were sprinkled in. The mixture of contents float and ooze causing an orgy of limitless power and green slime.

With the plan alive there is no stopping it. Each year a guardian is chosen and sworn to the ways of the Jar. The responsibility is enormous and has its affect. Although some may crack with the stress and tension, life with "The Pickle Jar" (no longer a pickle jar) may bring, most accept their destiny and conquer the challenge. The guardians see the power of the Jar and are encouraged to strike out and "take the initiative". With both good and evil controlled, the guardian can use the power of "The Pickle Jar" as his inspiration.

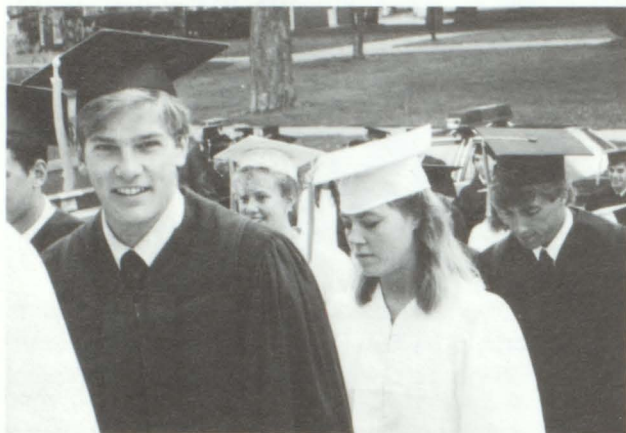

In this year, nineteen hundred and eighty-seven, the Academy Herald, yearbook of Gould Academy, has been partially dedicated to "the Pickle Jar". This occurrence is evidence of the growing influence "The Pickle Jar" has in Gould life. In order for the development of the students to equal that of the guardian's, Gould should accept the reality of "The Pickle Jar" and use the power to its fullest.
